

The National Tribune

A Monthly Journal devoted to the interests of the Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, and all Pensioners of the United States.

Published by The NATIONAL TRIBUNE COMPANY.

Vol. II, No. 6.

WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE, 1879.

TERMS, FIFTY CENTS PER YEAR.
Specimen Copies sent Free on Request.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year of our Lord, 1878, in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, D. C.

DECORATION DAY MEMORIES.

Through the courtesy of Messrs. Harper Bros., of "Harper's Weekly," we are permitted the use of the above splendid engraving, representing a scene such as was oft beheld during the war, and is now that it is all over. Who can contemplate without pangs of sorrow the faces in miniature of "the loved and lost," but what consolations to the living to believe that, as "the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church," so the blood of heroes, shed for liberty, has not flown without strengthening free institutions throughout the world. We believe it will be warmly appreciated by all our readers. This is a new feature in our paper, and if we meet with encouragement in the way of a large increase of subscribers, we may present other fine engravings in the future.